

Passenger Receipt

Your Passenger Receipt is available for you to download and print out as a PDF document from 24 hours after booking and the issuing of your ticket until 90 days after the end of your trip – provided that this receipt has not already been issued to you elsewhere.

If you use online check-in, we recommend you save this PDF document on your computer. This ensures that you will be able to print out the boarding pass it contains and the passenger receipt again at any time. The passenger receipt is valid as a ticket in accordance with Art. 34 of the UStDV (turnover Tax Implementation Regulation) and therefore as a proper invoice within the meaning of Art. 14 of the UStG (Value Added Tax Act). Together with your credit card- or debit-slip, it can be used both for travel expense claims and for input tax deduction.

According to Art. 31 (2) of the UStDV, the requirements for a ticket are satisfied if, based on the description recorded on the ticket, the name and address of the operator providing the service are clearly established. By means of the carrier code 'LH', which is established internationally as representing DLH AG (Lufthansa German Airlines), this requirement for the passenger receipt to be an invoice is fulfilled.

The declaration of the full name and full address of the person receiving the benefit is unnecessary for tickets within the meaning of Art. 34 of the UStDV. The declaration of a name identifies the passenger entitled to the flight and not the person receiving the benefit.

Please note that VAT applies only to purely domestic German flights and is therefore not incurred for cross-border flights.
